

Next level support. Remote Service Agreement.

Easy and interactive assistance. Remote Service Agreement.

Specialists from HEIDELBERG are always nearby. 24/7 access to our expert know-how at the push of a button — helping you increase your machine availability.

Fast and efficient service support

Remote service is the fastest and most direct way for you to reach our team of experts to diagnose and correct faults before they result in expensive production interruptions.

With our intelligent eCall® notification service, you can request support from HEIDELBERG® with a simple click on your touchscreen — automatically transferring all relevant data about the issue and your machine to HEIDELBERG Service. Our service expert then receives solution options from our intelligent diagnostic tool and typically calls you within 60 minutes to fix your problem. Nothing happens without your knowledge and the functions can be deactivated at any time.
