

More than just machines. Our focus on your needs. With our Training offerings.

Training programs with certification – knowledge that drives success

Give your team the skills, confidence, and expertise they need to excel in today's fast-paced printing industry. Our expert-led training programs are built on decades of experience and are continuously refined to meet the highest industry standards. Through a combination of hands-on learning, real-world applications, and structured content, HEIDELBERG ensures that knowledge is not only transferred but truly understood and applied effectively.

Our passionate, certified trainers provide in-depth guidance, equipping your team with technical know-how to optimize workflows and improve overall efficiency. Whether on-site or online, our training programs are designed to fit seamlessly into your operations – no matter where you are in the world. And with an official training certificate upon completion, every participant gains a recognized credential that validates their expertise and enhances their professional development.

Invest in your team's future and empower them to drive your business forward with confidence – together with our Knowledge, Network and Solutions.
